About the Expo

The Annual Construction Expo and Education Fair was started seven years ago to raise awareness and funding for the Rhode Island High School Construction Vocational Schools. Our Association and members are proud to be associated with this fine group of students and instructors. We initiated an International Code Council building code training program with all of the schools, and are proud to announce that to date, over ninety-five seniors have successfully completed the training and our Association, in conjunction with NETCOH Sales of Warwick and Stanley/DeWalt have awarded each of those students with hand and power tools with a value of over $350 for each student. The proceeds from this event are used to fund this program, so we again want to "Thank You" very much for your support and sponsorship.
